Striking a Light With a Popgun. The inhabitants of the countries dering on India have their own methods of making fire. A Burmese mes-senger recently brought a note to an English official, and the latter observed something resembling a boy's popgur hanging by the messenger's side. Cu riosity prompted him to ask the native what it was, and he was surprised to find that it was a machine for making

The native exhibited the apparatus and explained the working, concluding with a practical demonstration. was a tube, closed at one end and fitted with a piston. At the end of the piston was a groove or cavity, smeared with-wax, which was used for making thread or inflammable material adhere to it. The tinder, to keep the old name, is pressed on the wax when a light is required and is not kept there always.

Placing the wisp of cotton on the wax, the native inserted the tightly fitting piston in the tube, then forced it along the latter by giving it a sharp blow. On withdrawing the piston the cotton was found to be alight, having been ignited by the concussion with the compressed air.-Pearson's Weekly.

Guizot, Thiers and Bismarck.

One day I was invited to dioner with the Count of Enzenberg at the residence of Prince von Bismarck in Berlin. The count, a former charge d'af-faires in Paris, was a great collector of autographs. After a repast the count exhibited a sheet of paper on which Guizot and Thiers had affixed their signatures. "It is very interesting," said Prince von Bismarck. "Allow me to show this to my wife." (She was sick in bed at that time.) In a few minutes the chancellor returned, and, returning the sheet of paper to the diplomat from Wurttemberg, he added, "I hope that I did not spoil it by writing something on it."

Here follows what was written on the paper:

My long life has taught me that it is need to forgive a good deal and forget nothing.

A little forgetfulness does not diminish the sin A little ingreeness.

Thereserity of forgiveness.

My own life has taught me that I have a great deal for which to be deal to forget and a great deal for which to be forgiven.

Blunt Judge Morris.

On one occasion, in trying an abduc-tion case, Lord Morris, once chief justice of Ireland, addressed the jury as follows: "I am compelled to direct you to find a verdict of guilty in this case but you will easily see that I think it is a trifling thing, which I regard as quite unfit to occupy my time. It is more valuable than yours. At any rate, it is much better paid for. Find, therefore, the prisoner guilty of abduction which rests, mind ye, on four pointsthe father was not averse, the mother was not opposed, the girl was willing and the boy was convayment,"

The jury found the prisoner guilty, and the judge sentenced him to remain in the dock till the rising of the court. Hardly had he delivered sentence than, turning to the sheriff, Lord Morris said: "Let us go," and, looking at the prisoner, he called across the court. 1115"

The pacing habit is common among animals, says a writer in Scribner's Magazine. Many animals pace-cattle, for instance; and, among dogs, setters. I believe pacing to be a rather more natural gait than trotting. Trotting, as it exists in our fast horses, is scarce ly a natural gait, but is rather the result of breeding and education.

A Night Light.

Some people make it a point never to retire without a light burning in the house. A bit of information worth knowing is that a small even light may be obtained from a small piece of candle all night if fine powdered salt is piled around the candle until the black part of the wick is reached.

Work For It.

Nothing that is of real worth can be achieved without courageous working. Man owes his growth chiefly to that active striving of the will, that en counter with difficulty, which we call effort; and it is astonishing to find how often results apparently impracticable are thus made possible.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stemach and in bed half my time." says F. Demiek, Somerville, Ind. "I spent about $21,000 and never could get anything to help ms until I tried Kodel Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am actively well." You don't live by what you east, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodel Dyspeysia Care does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet. Eat all you want. MEDICINAL. MEDICINAL

Digests what you

You need all kinds of food to maintain the body. Curtail this variety and some organ is underfed. It is for this reason that a diet is injurious. If you cannot digest good food your stomach is out of order and needs rest. You cannot go without food for that would mean starvation. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat without the stomach's aid. Take it and you can rest your stomach without interrupting digestion. It is nature's own remedy. Never fails. Anderson Riggs, Sunny Lane, Tex., says: "I was troubled with indigestion ten years and tried many things and spent much money until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I am now feeling better than in five years and more like a boy than in twenty."
